Dear Dr. Green:

Thank you for the information and loan of the photographs on Elkhorn school. We had negatives made for the Utah State Historical Society photographic library. We used two of your pictures in our photograph display for the exhibit.

The Country School Legacy project is still continuing to collect material, information and photographs. As you continue your research in this area, any additional information you could supply would be appreciated by the exhibit's researchers. Good luck to you in your collection endeavors and thank you again for your help.

Sincerely,

Wreatha A. Witte

COUNTRY SCHOOL LEGACY: HUMANITIES ON THE FRONTIER

This project is sponsored by the Mountain Plains Library Association and funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities

October 8, 1981 at 7:00 pm
Utah State Historical Society - Museum Services

Exhibit: Country school artifacts, textbooks and photographs are on display in the lobby area.

Program: The following activities will take place in the West Lecture Room:

Introductions by Andy Odoardi, President of the Utah
Council for Social Studies

History Lecture by Scott Birkinshaw, Utah researcher for the Country School Legacy project.

Movie on country schools.

Comments by W. Francis Bailey, a former teacher and principal of Homer School in Granite School District in 1912.

Comments by Ned Burr, a recent one-room school teacher in Antimony, Utah in Garfield School District.

Comments on "open classrooms of today" by Boone Colegrove, Social Studies Specialist from the Utah
State Office of Education.

Questions and comments by the audience.

Refreshments will be served in the lobby afterwards. Please complete the audience evaluation and return it to the Museum staff.

"Country School Legacy" is still collecting information and photographs on one-room schools in Utah. If you would like to contribute, please contact Gary Topping at the USHS Library.

Thank you for attending tonight.
Please return later this fall to see the museum's upcoming exhibits:
"Greeks in Utah" and "WWI Posters"

The Museum would like to extend a special thanks to the following people for their help, donations and loans for the "Country School Legacy" exhibit and seminar evening at the Utah State Historical Society this week:
